"From the first it was evident that nemething uncommon was being developed, and his yearing trial showed nim to be the wonder he afterward proved. His degin at 2 years was delayed until midsummer through various siignt adiments, thereby missing faces that would have been at his mercy. But the touts had been at his mercy. But the touts had been at his mercy. But the touts had been busy, his fime had spread, and 5 to 2 was his price on his first appearance and ten lengths in a camer the verdict.

His only defeat in the valuable Futurity (52 000 to the winners, remains to this day one of the many turf mysteries which will never be solved, and is still as inexplicable as it was them. His first face as a 1-year-old, in the Metropolitan, a handicap at one mile, when drawing the outside position, and having on a circular track to run around a big field, in rotten ground, he was down on his knees twice, he made a dead heat with a 4-year-old, to whom in May he was giving thirty pounds by the scale, the rest of the field being down the course.

Else he gallops in front if they wait, and draws away with an sase that is astonishing and at a great pace whenever they move up to him. He has hardly ever been extended or made to gallop for more than a furlong or a quarter every now and then, winning all his races literally pulled up and in very fast time by the watch.

"Horses that he beats in that way win high-class races, heating the best fields before and after they meet him, but he beats them in a canter no matter how the races are run. That he never should have been beaten to date looks as sure as anything can in racing, and he should and could have won very much more than oven his huge total. Still fourteen wins in fifteen starts and $185.352 to his credit, places him even now high up among the world's greatest winners."

FIREMEN DEFEAT M. A. C. PLAYERS AT HAND BALL.

Pitsporter and Kinsella No Match the Victors, Who Win Four Straight Games.

Lonnie Fitzporter and Jim Kinsella of the Missouri A C., went down to the engine-house handball court on Eightsenth and Ruter streets yesterday afternoon to teach the firemen how to play the game of handball. The firemen were ready for them and won four straight games, mak-ing a total of $4 to 40 scored by the M. A. C. box. ing a total of a to a score by the a.

Fitzporter fainted after the third same.

When he revived he pluckily returned to court and asked the firemen to make it four in seven, instead of three in five. The firemen consented, and then tumped and won the fourth game by a score of Par Winters of No. 14 truck company, and Dick Shaughness of Engine Company, No. 7, represented the firemen. They played some of the fastest handball ever seen in St. Louis. Tom Sheridan and charles Lindsey have challenged the firemen for a game next Saturday. The McCarthy brothers of Galway, Ireland, will play the firemen to-day.

JUMPING HORSES

Steeplechasers Owned by Thomas Hitchcock Have Won $15,000 This Year-Hylas the Chief Breadwinner.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, Nov. II.—As far in the lead of his competitors in steeplechasing as the stable of James R. Keene is alread of the other big stables in flat racing on the scalant's winning list, the strictly cross-country racing entablishment maintained by Thomas Hitchcock Ir. practically has ended its activity for the year, after having set a new record for earnings in steeplechasing in America. The Hitchcock stable, made up entirely of steep-chase horses, has won about all the high praces offered for jumpers this searon, and to date has carred more than $45,000 in purses and stakes in the seven menthal since the racing of the East opened at Washington in March.

Mr. Hitchcock maintains two places where he trains and schools his horses, most of his steeplechasers and hunters being quartered at his Westbury, L. L. place, through the New York racing cason, and at Alken, S. C., through the severe part of the winter.

With Good and Plenty as its best performer, the Hitchcock stable had a conspicuous part in steeplechasing through the season of 180, but the success achieved then has been eclipsed in the season of 180, but the success achieved then has been eclipsed in the season pust ending. The stable had its shares of misfortune, too, for Binck Hussar, which had promised to make a jumper of the class of Good and Plenty, fell far short of expectations, and on yran twice in the season, falling to win on either occasion. Tom Cogan, which also had been looked on as a big prep, failed, too, while of the other developed jumpers. Jim Newman and Phantom were slow to come to their best form.

Gansvoort was an early winner for the Hitchcock colors, however, and when the racing to suched Belment Park has spring Good and Plenty went at one and the room in the season, the leaving the sonition and the season this leaving the solid to the task as in eleven starts he won seven times, was second twice and third once, being unabased but a single two search of jumping proved fully equal to the task, as in elevan starts h

New York Publication Draws Attention to Decreases in Passenger Traffic Below That of Last

New York, Nov. II.—It is stated by the Chronicle that it is becoming more and more evident as the weeks pass that the extra passenger traffic to the World's Fair at St. Louin played a very important part in swelling the cartings of many railroads lest year. At all events, the roads which were apparently most favored in this way in October, 1994, are now obliged, in many instances, to repert heavy decreases.
